

NNJ 3: PARSIPPANY, NEW JERSEY DATA CENTER

200 WEBRO ROAD, PARSIPPANY, NJ 07054

Cologix’s NNJ 3 Parsippány data center merges highly redundant infrastructure with superior design to provide a broad spectrum of data center services from Colocation to Cloud. Owned and operated by Cologix, this next-generation facility features high density colocation capabilities, diverse and redundant power, innovative cooling, comprehensive security features and a redundant network infrastructure. Furthermore, the data center’s size offers unmatched scalability, enabling customers to expand their IT resources specific to their business needs. With a variety of flexible power configurations and superior support services, the NNJ 3 data center helps customers safeguard critical data while utilizing enterprise level IT solutions.

Fully Redundant Power

Our power infrastructure is engineered to deliver resilient, uninterruptible power even in the event of multiple component failures. We use 2 (N+1) redundant power systems with UPS and battery validation systems, and diverse power feeds from totally autonomous isolated power systems, all of which are supported by backup diesel generators. Additionally, there is a JCP&L Power Substation onsite.

High Density Colocation

Our 20 kW per cabinet solutions breaks the industry standard power cap of 4 kW, allowing you to get more efficient use out of your colocation space. This allows you to consolidate multiple cabinets of older servers into a reduced footprint, freeing existing cabinets for growth or cage consolidation.

Data Center Highlights

- 120,000 Square Feet
- 100% SLA Uptime Guarantee
- High Density 20 kW Cabinets
- SOC 1 (ISAE18/ISAE3402), SOC 2, HIPAA, PCI DSS
- Biometric Authentication
- Multiple 2(N+1) Redundant Power Systems
- Carrier Neutral
- Above FEMA 500 Year Flood Plain

Tour Our Parsippány NJ Data Center

The Parsippány Data Center is about 30 miles from Manhattan and is a short 30 minute drive from Newark Liberty International Airport. The data center is situated in close proximity to Route 24, Route 46, I-80 and I-287; easy to reach by car, bus or train.

High Density Cooling

Rather than focusing on the cold air, our high density cooling systems capture hot air before it enters the data center, which results in a dramatic increase in operational efficiency. Heat chimneys duct exhaust directly from the racks to a room-based cooling system, so the cool-air environment is no longer contaminated with hot air, and we no longer have to provide air colder than necessary to compensate for the mixing.

Location, Location, Location

Our data center is strategically located in Parsippany NJ, a low crime neighborhood 30 miles outside of NYC. Parsippany is situated well above the FEMA 500 year flood plain, and our center remained safe, dry and accessible during all hurricanes and nor'easters, including Superstorm Sandy.
