

CARBON₆₀ NETWORKS SELECTS COLOGIX DATA CENTER, EXPANDING TORONTO FOOTPRINT TO MEET RAPID CUSTOMER GROWTH

Cloud deployment the latest example of service providers selecting Cologix for a reliable and neutral environment from which to address new enterprise customers

Denver, Colorado – February 3, 2015 – Cologix™, a network neutral interconnection and data center company, today announced that Carbon₆₀ Networks, a leading cloud computing and managed hosting provider focused on marquee Canadian enterprises and public sector clients, has selected Cologix's data center in Toronto to deploy their next generation converged cloud infrastructure. This third Canadian cloud deployment, at Cologix's TOR 2 Data Centre at 905 King Street West, grows their Canadian footprint and positions them for future expansion across the Cologix platform.

"We are in high growth mode as more clients are shifting portions of their IT workloads to cloud computing. We are dedicated to providing our customers with highly secure, flexible cloud hosting solutions designed for the development and delivery of business-critical applications. Part of that solution requires partnering with best-in-class data center partners," stated John Witte, president and CEO of Carbon₆₀ Networks. "Cologix provides us a local Toronto data center at 905 King Street that offers redundancy and connectivity as well as access to a robust platform in strategic Canadian and U.S. markets for future expansion."

Carbon₆₀ Networks specializes in "end-to-end" hosting solutions for public and private sector organizations in Canada with business-critical IT workloads. Carbon₆₀ has a "multi-origin" cloud hosting infrastructure which allows websites and applications to be hosted across geographically diverse regions in Canada. Carbon₆₀ Network's solutions integrate robust, cost-effective development, quality assurance, staging, production, and disaster recovery services backed by a 99.99% SLA.

Cologix provides network neutral interconnection and colocation services in highly strategic and densely connected facilities. Cologix is the largest network neutral interconnection provider in Canada with a leading presence in Toronto, Montreal and Vancouver. "Through its dedication and reputation to customer service, Carbon₆₀ has built a loyal customer-base that includes a number of Canada's biggest digital media companies, top tier financial institutions and health information content providers, stated Sean Maskell, president, Cologix Canada. "We are proud to have earned Carbon₆₀ Network's trust to support their growth."
