

Cologix thanks you and your entire team for being on the front line in fighting COVID-19. Healthcare providers are the unsung heroes at the center of this fight, and we are thankful for your efforts and sacrifice. In this unprecedented time, we recognize that many corporations are facing increasing pressure on their IT infrastructure spend to continue operations despite the challenges posed by this pandemic.

Cologix will do whatever we can to support your team.

During the fight against Covid, Cologix is offering qualifying key providers of healthcare discounted pricing for data center services needed in order to keep your business critical infrastructure up and running while you focus on the vital fight against the virus.
